The Pell Grant Program

Postsecondary National Policy Institute

Leah Koestner
Budget Analysis Division

Pell Grant Program Overview

- The Pell grant program is the largest federal postsecondary student aid grant program.
 - Recipients must be undergraduate students who have never received a bachelor's degree (with some exceptions).
 - Eligibility and award amounts are based on a student's income and assets (or, for students who are dependents, their parents' income and assets).
- Program Projections for Award Year (AY) 2017–2018 (based on CBO's June 2017 baseline):
 - 7.5 million Pell grant recipients
 - Total maximum award of $5,920
 - Average award of about $3,800
 - Total federal spending of $28.5 billion

Components of Funding for Pell Grants

Discretionary Funding

- Budget authority is provided by the Congress to support the Pell program.
- The maximum award (currently $4,860) is set in the annual appropriation act.

Mandatory for Discretionary Pell Funding

 Mandatory budget authority is available to supplement funding for the discretionary portion of the Pell grant program, as provided in the Higher Education Act (HEA).

Mandatory Add-On

- The mandatory add-on covers the difference between the total maximum award and the discretionary maximum award set in an appropriation act.
- AY 2016—17: total maximum award = $5,815; mandatory add-on = $955
- AY 2017–18: total maximum award = $5,920; mandatory add-on = $1,060

Discretionary Funding: CBO's Baseline Versus Program Costs

Discretionary Baseline

- Constructed like all other discretionary programs
- Projected as current budget authority plus an increase for inflation
- Does not reflect a projection of future program costs

Discretionary Program Costs

- Estimated on the basis of projected changes in the number of recipients and their award levels
- Incorporated an assumption of a $4,860 discretionary maximum award in all years

How Pell Grants Are Like Entitlements

Pell Scoring Rule

- Even if appropriations do not provide enough budget authority to fund Pell grants in the upcoming fiscal year, CBO's estimates include the full costs of the program.
- In its cost estimates, CBO uses the higher amount of budget authority (adjusted for shortfalls or surpluses) or program costs.

Funding Shortfalls and Surpluses

- The difference between discretionary program costs and available budget authority (through both discretionary appropriations and the mandatory for discretionary funding provided in the HEA) creates either a discretionary shortfall or a surplus.
- The Pell program has had a discretionary surplus for the past six years, currently estimated at $8.5 billion.

Estimated Surplus going into Fiscal Year 2018

8,551

a. Regular Discretionary Appropriation includes any rescissions. In the 2017 Consolidated Appropriations Act, Congress appropriated $22,475 million, and rescinded $1,310 million of unobligated discretionary Pell funding.

b. Most of the additional budget authority provided to support the discretionary program is classified as mandatory. Beginning in 2011, the total amount of additional funding can be found in section 401(b)7(A)(iv) of the Higher Education Act of 1965. That budget authority is used to augment the funding provided in annual appropriations for the discretionary Pell grant program.

c. The cumulative shortfall or surplus in budget authority is calculated under the Pell scoring rule, as specified in section 406 of the 2006 Budget Resolution (H. Con, Res. 95).

a. The cumulative shortfall or surplus in budget authority is calculated under the Pell scoring rule, as specified in section 406 of the 2006 Budget Resolution (H. Con. Res. 95). See page 1 for calculation.

b. Mandatory budget authority available to supplement funding for the discretionary portion of the Pell Grant program, provided in section 401(b)7(A)(iv) of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

c. Estimated budget authority needed to support a maximum award level of $4,860 under the Pell scoring rule, as specified in section 406 of the 2006 Budget Resolution (H. Con, Res. 95)

d. The Pell Grant Program is primarily a discretionary program, with an annual appropriation supporting a maximum award level set in the annual appropriations act. CBO's June 2017 baseline does not represent a projection of expected costs for the Pell grant program. As with all other discretionary programs, the budget authority is calculated by inflating the budget authority appropriated for fiscal year 2017. Outlays for future years are based on those levels of budget authority. In the most recently enacted appropriations act, the maximum award was set at $4,860.

e. In the 2017 Consolidated Appropriations Act, there was a recission of $1.3 billion of unobligated discretionary Pell funding. Under the rules for constructing the baseline, that rescission is inflated in the same manner as the regular appropriation.

a. The maximum award level for the discretionary portion of the Pell Grant Program is set each year in the annual appropriations act. In the most recently enacted appropriations act, the award level was set at $4,860.

b. The amount of the mandatory add-on for 2017 is based on the total published by the Department of Education in a Dear Colleague Letter on October 18, 2016. Under current law, the amount of the mandatory add-on for each year over the 2018 - 2027 period is the same as the amount in award year 2017-2018.

(B) Increase in federal pell grants.—The amounts made available pursuant to clauses (i) through (iii) of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph shall be used to increase the amount of the maximum Federal Pell Grant for which a student shall be eligible during an award year, as specified in the last enacted appropriation Act applicable to that award year, by—

(iv) Definitions.—For purposes of this subpara-

grapn–

(I) the term "annual adjustment percentage" as applied to an award year, is equal to the estimated percentage change in the Consumer Price Index (as determined by the Secretary, using the definition in section 478(f)) for the most recent calendar year ending prior to the beginning of that award year; and

(II) the term "total maximum Federal Pell Grant" as applied to a preceding award year, is equal to the sum of—

(aa) the maximum Federal Pell Grant for which a student is eligible during an award year, as specified in the last enacted appropriation Act applicable to that preceding award year; and

(bb) the amount of the increase in the maximum Federal Pell Grant required by this paragraph for that preceding award year.

Appendix III: Pell Scoring Rule

The congressional budget resolution for fiscal year 2006 included a rule under which appropriations bills for the Pell Grant program are scored by the Congressional Budget Office for the estimated cost of the program for that year [adjusted for the cumulative shortfall/surplus], regardless of the amount actually appropriated. In years where the appropriation exceeds the program cost as estimated at the beginning of the subsequent fiscal year, any surplus is available to reduce the appropriation needed to support that subsequent year's program costs. Conversely, in years where the appropriation is lower than the updated estimated program cost, the difference is automatically scored against the subsequent year's appropriation.
